OFFICE OF THE FOOD SAFETY COMMISSIONER, BIHAR

ORDER

The 6th November 2015

1. NO : FSC/22/2012-1268—WHEREAS, There is overwhelming evidence of harms from using chewing products like pan masala, gutka, scented arecanut, and flavoured tobacco products as additives in these like magnesium carbonate, aromatic flavourings, and including traces of tobacco and nicotine. The Hon'able Supreme Court has taken cognizance of the substantive evidence provided by the National Institute of Health & Family Welfare, New Delhi in the Ankur Gutka vs. Indian Asthma Care Society and Others (SLP Civil No: 16308/ 2007);

2. And WHEREAS, according to World Health Organization and Government of India's report - The Global Adult Tobacco Survey (2010); Bihar is among the largest consumer of tobacco with nearly 54% of the adult population using tobacco. The problem of tobacco use in Bihar is unique in the sense that nearly 49% people use tobacco in smokeless form or chewing tobacco. Many of these users are lifelong users and global studies suggest that nearly one in two of these will die prematurely due to a non-reversible tobacco-induced disease like cancers of the mouth, throat, larynx, esophagus, pancreas, among other deadly diseases. Tobacco use robs families of breadwinners and pushes them into poverty and destitution. According to a study done by Government of India and Public Health Foundation of India (PHFI), the health costs of treating diseases caused by tobacco use cost the Government of Bihar and its people Rs. 1341 crores in the year 2011. Most of this is borne by the poor who are not aware of the deadly effect of tobacco on health.

3. And WHEREAS, Tobacco, areca nut (beetelnut / supari), whether flavoured, scented or mixed with other ingredients such as nicotine, heavy metals, anti-caking agents (except to the extent specifically permitted as ingredients), silver leaf, binders, flavours, scents, fragrances, prohibited chemicals, or any one of these ingredients (the said ingredients are hereafter collectively or individually, as the context requires, referred to as “the said additives”) are “food” under Section 3(j) of the Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006;

4. And WHEREAS, The harmful effects of tobacco, areca nut (beetelnut), and several of the additives, often found in the form of Gutka and Pan Masala, causes Acute Hyper- magnesemia, cardiac arrest, oral sub mucous fibrosis, oral cancer, Leukoplakia, Esophageal cancer, Stomach cancer, Metabolic abnormalities, reproductive health, Gastro intestinal and respiratory diseases

5. And WHEREAS, It is one of the primary duties of the State, intar alia, to improve public health, as a matter one of the directive principles as enshrined in the article 47 of the Constitution of India and, whereas, it implicitly includes the concept of provision of measures to be taken for prevention of deterioration of citizen’s health;

6. And WHEREAS, The Central and the State Governments and the Food Safety Commissioner are required to follow certain principles under chapter III of Food Safety and Standards Act, 2006, which includes an endeavour to achieve the appropriate level of protection of human life and health [(Sec. 18)(1)(a)] and, therefore, the conduct of these authorities is supposed to be always guided to tackle all the measures to safeguard human life;

7. And WHEREAS, The Food Safety Commissioner has a power coupled with a duty under Section 30(2) (a) of the Food Safety and Standards Act 2006 (“FSSA 2006”) to prohibit in the interest of public health, manufacture, storage, distribution or sale of any article of food;

8. And WHEREAS, after general inquiry of various scientific reports and opinions, it was noticed that Pan Masala, Flavoured / Scented Tobacco, Flavoured / Scented Supari and similar products containing either tobacco or areca nut (beetelnut), by whatsoever name called, cause immense damage to the health of consumers and their adverse impact could also lead to extremely deleterious effects on human health and well-being with consequential impact on society as well;

9. And WHEREAS, by Notification No. FSC/ 22 / 2012 / 221, Dated, 8th May, 2015 issued u/s 30(2) of FSSA 2006, the Commissioner of Food Safety in Bihar state had already prohibited the manufacture, storage, distribution or sale of Gutkha or Pan Masala, containing either tobacco and/or nicotine as ingredients, by whatsoever name these are available in the market and any other products marketed separately to constitute as Gutkha or Pan Masala containing tobacco and nicotine etc. as final products for one year;
